RECORDED 1973

P R E F A C E

The Committee appointed by the Henderson Memorial Association to revise and bring the Henderson History up to date, have followed very closely the form and order of the old History. A few minor changes have been made which the Committee feels will add to the value of the History.

As the value of the old Henderson History was more in its Genealogy than History, so the Revision Committee have endeavored to set out more completely, the Family Tree, by giving accurately the dates, places of birth, marriage, residence, occupations, and deaths of the individuals and families herein represented.

For the convenience in tracing the Family Tree, each son or daughter of Joans and Margaret Henderson who married, and their respective descendants, constitute a division. This makes eleven divisions in the Family Tree. Each division is divided into Families. Each grand-son or grand-daughter of Joans and Margaret Henderson, and their respective descendants constitute a Family. The Index sets out the relation of each individual and family in the Family Tree.

The divisions and families of the division are arranged in order of the births, beginning with the eldest and tracing his or her descendants before taking up the next division or family.

The Committee divided the labor of securing and arranging the information. The Third, Fifth, Eighth, Ninth, and Eleventh Divisions were assigned to Maysie E. Camblin. The First, Second, Fourth, Sixth, Seventh, and Tenth Divisions were assigned to J. E. Kolb. The accuracy of this History is based and depends upon the answers to the questionnaires sent out by the Committee for information.

Thanking each one for their cooperation, the Committee respectfully submits the following pages.

Wm. C. HENDERSON,
L. E. CAMBLIN,
MAYSIE E. CAMBLIN,
D. A. BAKER,
J. E. KOLB,

HISTORY OF THE HENDERSON MEMORIAL ASSOCIATION

About one hundred of the relatives and descendants of Joans and Margaret Henderson met at Tecumseh's Trail, September 11, 1907. The occasion was a birthday dinner given in honor of the seventy-eighth birthday of Mrs. Mary G. Graves.

It was the expressed feeling of those present that we should have a yearly reunion of the descendants of Joans and Margaret Henderson, at which time a basket dinner should be served and the ties of kin and friendship be renewed and made stronger.

An organization to be known as the Henderson Memorial Association was perfected by electing John W. Henderson, President, and J. E. Kolb, Secretary.

The last Thursday in August of each year was selected as the day of the Reunion. Our expenses, such as rental for grounds, postage, etc., were to be raised by voluntary contributions. These contributions so far have been sufficient for our needs.

The Association has endeavored to send flowers at the death of members of the Association. For this purpose a flower committee is maintained.

At the Twentieth reunion in August, 1926, at Monticello Park, it was decided after much discussion to change the date of the Reunion from the last Thursday in August, to the second Sunday in August.

Twenty-three Reunions have been held as follows:

The First in 1907, and Twelfth in 1918, were held at Tecumseh's Trail, near Lafayette.

The Second in 1908, the Third in 1909, Fifth in 1911, Sixth in 1912, Fifteenth in 1921, and Twenty-first in 1927, were held in Battle Ground.

The Fourth in 1910, Seventh in 1913, Tenth in 1916, Thirteenth in 1919, and Sixteenth in 1922, were held in Morocco, Indiana.

The Eighth in 1914, was held at the Old Henderson Homestead then partially owned by Charles H. Henderson, a grandson of Joans and Margaret Henderson. A very enjoyable, and long to be remembered meeting was held.

The Ninth in 1915, Eleventh in 1917, Fourteenth in 1920, Seventeenth in 1923, and Eighteenth in 1924, at the Columbian Park, Lafayette, Indiana.

The Nineteenth in 1925, Twenty-Second in 1928, Twenty-Third in 1929, at the Newton County Fair Grounds near Kentland, Indiana.

The Twentieth in 1926, at Monticello Park, Monticello, Indiana.

The officers of the Association are as follows:

The year of 1907 and 1908, John W. Henderson, President, and J. E. Kolb, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Flower, Press Agent, and Book committees were continued. To aid in selling the books a committee was appointed consisting of Oliver Henderson, Harry Swindler, and F. A. Camblin. The book committee reported revised books ready for the printers.

That the reunions may continue to be an occasion of pleasure to be looked forward to, is the wish of the Committee.

HISTORY OF JOANS A. AND MARGARET HENDERSON AND THEIR DESCENDANTS

Joans Addison Henderson was born October 23, 1785, in Augusta County, Virginia, of Scotch-Irish parents. He died March 18, 1855.

Margaret Smith was born August 15, 1800, in Montgomery County, Kentucky. She died November 10, 1862.

Joans Addison Henderson, moved with his parents from Virginia to Montgomery County, Kentucky, in 1792. He was married to Margaret Smith in Montgomery County, Kentucky, in 1817. Selling the farm on which they lived in Kentucky, they came in wagons to Indiana in 1834. They were near Jamestown, Indiana, when the shower of stars occurred. They came to Tippecanoe County, and lived temporarily in a log cabin on the farm owned by Thomas Conley, who had been their neighbor in Kentucky, but who had come the year before to Indiana. They lived here until March, 1835, when they moved to a farm of two hundred and forty acres, five and one-half miles north of Lafayette, which they bought, and which was partially owned by their grandson, Charles Haskell Henderson, until 1922. They lived on this farm the remainder of their lives, and both were buried in the West Union (known as the Pierce) Cemetery, near Lafayette, Indiana.

To this union thirteen children were born:

- † Addison Henderson, born December 7, 1817, near Mt. Sterling, Montgomery County, Kentucky.

He enlisted September 7, 1861, in Company A, 40th Indiana Volunteers, Wagner's Brigade, Second Division, 4th Army Corps, and was honorably discharged January 31, 1864. He immediately re-enlisted and served until the close of the War. He was in the battles of Stone River, Perryville, Kentucky, Kenesaw Mountain, Peach Tree Creek, and Franklin. He was taken prisoner at Franklin November 30, 1864, and was taken to Andersonville Prison, enduring the horrors of that place almost six months. His ration at Andersonville was a cup of coarse corn meal with the cob and silk ground in it, a piece of filthy meat about twice a week, and once or twice a week a piece of corn bread. They were given very little fuel with which to prepare the food. He was released from Andersonville March 26, 1865, and paroled April 24, 1865. He started home and at Memphis, Tennessee, took passage on the Steamboat Sultana, whose boilers blew up April 27, 1865, setting fire to the boat. Of about 2,200 people, mostly soldiers, between 600 and 700 were saved. An effort was made to put out the fire, but seeing that the boat would be destroyed, Mr. Thorn determined to save himself. Not being able to swim he secured two small boards from the wreckage, which he tied together. When compelled by the heat he jumped in the river and by the help of his boards was able to keep afloat. His face was blistered by the heat as he was carried past the burning boat, though he kept throwing water over his head with his free hand. The Mississippi river was a flood at this time and he was caught in some brush on an island. He was picked up the next morning, so numbed with cold that he was almost helpless, by a skiff and taken to a steamer sent out from Memphis to rescue the survivors. He was taken to a camp provided for the survivors, and in a few days returned home. He was honorably discharged at Indianapolis, June 14, 1865. After the war he came to Tippecanoe County, Indiana, and located on a farm near Battle Ground, Indiana.
